PUBLIC SALE
OF THE
Washington and Ohio R. R.
Under authority of a decree of the Circuit Court of Richmond city, rendered April 23, 1880, in the suit of Henry Lewis et al., vs. The W. & O. R. R. Company et al., and affirmed by the Court of Appeals of Virginia at its September term, 1881, the undersigned special Commissioners, will, at 12 o'clock m. on the 16th day of May, 1882, at the railroad depot of the Washington and Ohio Railroad Company, in the city of Alexandria, Va., offer at public auction the ENTIRE LINE OF THE WASHINGTON & OHIO RAILROAD, including that partly and that wholly constructed, and also all and singular all the works and property, real, personal and mixed, rolling stock, locomotives, cars, &c., and all rights, contracts and franchises of said Washington and Ohio Railroad Company.
The said property consists of a constructed line of railway in active operation from the city of Alexandria, Va., westward through the counties of Alexandria, Fairfax and Loudoun to Round Hill station, in Loudoun county, a distance of 51 1/2 miles, including a line connecting with the Washington and Alexandria Railroad. The road is also graded beyond Round Hill for a distance of three miles.
The other real property of the company consists of a large brick depot building and freight house, in the city of Alexandria, a round house, machine shop, car shop, car shed, stone house, &c., and about five acres of land adjacent thereto; also eleven depot houses and lots at the eleven principle stations between Alexandria and Round Hill.
According to the route surveyed the distance from Washington city to Point Pleasant, on the Ohio river, is three hundred and twenty-five miles, and passes through a country heavily timbered and of great mineral resources.
Term: The entire property, real, personal and mixed, franchises, &c., is sold together, and for the same the purchaser must pay fifty thousand dollars ($50,000) of the purchase money in cash, and the residue in four equal annual payments, with interest from the day of sale, which said payments are to be evidenced by bonds which are to be secured by a deed of trust upon the property sold, to be executed upon the confirmation of the sale and conveyance to the purchaser.
This sale is subject to the lien of the deed of trust executed August 6th, 1878, to indemnify the county of Clarke, State of Virginia, against liability for the annual interest on the bonds of the said company for the sum of one hundred thousand dollars ($100,000) "up to and until the time when said road shall be commenced, and under construction in said county of Clarke," and against liability for the payments of the principal of said bonds in case they shall become due and payable before the road shall be commenced and under construction in said county, the said bonds falling due in the year 1892.
The purchaser will be entitled to the net profits of the road from the day of the sale.

RICH'D. H. LEE,
CHAS. E. STUART,
HENRY HEATON,
Commissioners of Sale.

Railroad Incidents.
A bloody accident would have happened Thursday evening on the Manassas Branch but for the watchfulness and prompt action of the competent and wide awake conductor Capt. James Iden of the Va. Midland road. As his train was backing rapidly up to the station at Front Royal, Capt. Iden stepped upon the rear platform which was then in front, to look out, and discovered a man lying directly across the track but a short distance ahead, sound asleep with his head on the rail. The conductor rang the bell violently and had the brakes applied, while the passengers crowded on the platform and turned pale as the cars ran rapidly up to the sleeping form, all expecting to see the man crushed to death the next instant. But the train was checked within four or five yards of the man who was aroused, and though too drunk to rise dragged himself slowly off the track greatly to the relief of all, though he did not seem to realize that he had been within two seconds of a horrible death.
The next morning (Friday) the same train had a lively and exciting race with three horses between Delaplane and Rectortown. The horses had gotten out of their pasture and were on the track when the train came upon them. The alarm whistle started them in a gallop down the road. The nearer the train approached and the louder the engine shrieked and hissed, the more frightened became the poor animals, and they tore along at the top of their speed, never quitting the track except to blunder around a cattle guard, the fences being close on either side of the road. Thus the chase was kept up for nearly two miles, the passengers getting on the platforms and hanging excitedly out of the windows and the conductor having to hold the door fast to prevent one excited old gentleman from rushing out in apprehension of an accident. At last the run-ways were stopped by a long covered bridge and driven in a corner, where they struggled frantically to break through as the train came up. Just then the fence gave way and they scrambled into the adjoining field and the train, which had been slowed in order to avoid an accident, shot rapidly on.

ROMANCE OF AN ELOPEMENT.—Farmer Rice, whose fertile fields are near Danville, Va., was particularly proud of two things that he possessed, a charming daughter Sallie, and a promising patch of early vegetables. Both treasures were hard to keep. An ardent lover threatened to carry off his daughter, and his early peas were in danger from the sheep and other prying things. Mr. J. J. Barker, was the accepted lover, but the father refused his consent, and the loving pair laid a plot to elope. The youth drove in a buggy to a spot near the truck-patch, and opening a gate allowed several sheep to enter. Miss Sallie shouted to her father that the sheep were in the truck, and the old man thus was deceived from the house. Halfway to the truck patch Farmer Rice heard his young daughter shrilly call and wildly gestulate for his return. He saw Barker's buggy, with the sheep at gallop crossing from the woods, and at the moment caught the sound of the faithful daughter: "Sallie's sloppin' run pop, run." Mr. Rice was in a predicament. At his left hand sheep were despoiling his truck; on his right his daughter was running away with an objectionable man! What should he do? Hesitating not longer than a second the old man seized a pitchfork and started after the lovers. Away went the buggy and after them pegged the farmer's easy going mare. At Pellam he drew rein, for the lovers had slipped away. Mr. Rice returned not to the truck patch. He saw in the bottom of his consoling cup that both treasures by which he had set so much store were gone forever.

AN INGENIOUS MACHINE.—Mr. Mahone Wheelless, of New Orleans, has recently invented a very ingenious machine for reporting, by which he claims he is able to report over 200 words per minute, the words so reported containing all the vowel and consonant sounds. He has so arranged the language that any combination of sound can be instantaneously produced by the mathematical permutations represented on the instrument. The reading of the record so made is not confined to the operator alone, as in stenography, but any one who is familiar with the table by which the instrument is operated can readily translate any report produced. He not only claims superiority over shorthand as to speed, but as to perfect accuracy with which any one can report. The mathematical combinations are so ingeniously arranged that no two permutations can ever represent the same sound. Mr. Wheelless, who is also an expert in telegraphy, claims that the speed in sending telegraphic messages by his invention can be increased from fifty, the average number of words per minute, to 200, and with a greater accuracy than is attained by the present system of telegraphy. By the use of the machines so constructed a speech taken in Congress, for instance, can be transmitted to New York, or any other distant point, so that a party at the register in New York will be able to read the speech while it is being delivered in Washington. Mr. Wheelless has been employed at shorthand some ten years, devoting the past three years to the construction of the machine.

WARNER'S SAFE KIDNEY & LIVER CURE
Disease is an effect, not a cause. Its origin is within; its manifestations without. Hence, to cure the disease the cause must be removed, and in other way can a cure ever be effected. WARNER'S SAFE KIDNEY AND LIVER CURE is established on just this principle. It realizes that all diseases arise from deranged kidneys and liver, and it strikes at once at the root of the difficulty. The elements of which it is composed act directly upon these great organs, both as a food and restorer, and by placing them in a healthy condition, drive disease and pain from the system. For the innumerable troubles caused by unhealthy Kidneys, Liver and Urinary Organs; for the distressing Disorders of Women; for Malaria, and for physical derangements generally, this great remedy has no equal. Beware of impostors, imitations and concoctions said to be just as good. For Diabetes, ask for WARNER'S SAFE DIABETES CURE. For sale by all dealers.
